Prof. Prakash J Patil is the Head of the Department of Electronics & Communication Engineering.He obtained his M.Tech from JNTU Kakinada and he has more than 19 years of teaching experience.He published six papers in various National and International journals/conferences.He is author for the book enititled "Communication Engineering"

He conducted a couple of short term courses, seminars, workshops and delivered few expert lectures.He is expert at guiding projects for UG & PG students, guiding students for paper presentation, project exhibition and poster presentation.He is very active at conducting Career counseling to the students.

Additional responsible duties of the college carried out efficiently by his including Training and Placement Officer (TPO), JKC-Coordinator (IEG-JKC), SPOC- for Infosys Campus Connect Program/Soft Skills, SPOC- for IEG-JKC Soft skills and AICTE / Affiliation work.

Now he is teaching for UG and PG students. During his past 19 years of teaching he taught several subjects of Electronics & Communication Engineering. He is Telangana State Member for Indian society for Technical Education